

Business Development Manager

Due to the rapid growth in the Low Carbon, Renewable and Fuel Efficient Technologies, we require a dedicated Business Development Manager.

The role will be to develop both new and existing partnerships with relevant contractors, such as Plumbers, Electricians, and Builders. You will have a good understanding of how energy is used for heating and in electrical appliances in both domestic and non-domestic buildings as well as an understanding of the supply of materials to the building trade.

Whilst this is a new and exciting role, you will have the in-depth support of the Green Energy Centre, with its in-depth knowledge and innovative range of products and services. You will need to be enthusiastic, technically able, and have experience within this specific customer base.

As this is an important position, an appropriate salary, company car, commission and company benefits, will be provided with this position.

This is an exciting opportunity to contribute to the low carbon future, and to make a difference.
